The "Brownie Girls."

B—R—O—W—N—I—E
Brownie, Brownie girls are we,
Merry-hearted, glad and free—
B—R—O—W—N—I—E.

If, perchance, the lake echoes are wakened to this or to a similar merry call, on a summer's night by and by, one may know the "Brownies" are holding one of their usual jolly festivities at their summer camp quarters, Ethel Bradbury's bungalow, "The Wigwam" on the shores of Lake Pennesseewassee.

Three weeks ago nine young ladies gathered at Miss Bradbury's home and formed a small social club, devoted at present to fancy work arts. Three pleasant evenings have thus been spent and many plans made for outdoor pastimes this coming summer.

The club numbers ten at present:

Ethel I. Bradbury,	Lona Noble,
Eulalie Davis,	Lola Smith,
Fannie Boynton,	Ida White,
Katherine Normally,	Alice (Schnuer) Adkins,
Bessie Chase,	Hortense (Gregg) Gates

The last meeting was held with Miss Normally, and a very delightful evening it was. The girls gathered around the cheerful parlor fireplace and busy needles guided by skillful fingers worked many fancy stitches while the hostess played choice grapohone selections, then putting aside all work the girls sang several songs to piano accompaniment by Miss Chase.

Away in the days of fairy legends the fabled Brownies with their constant cheer made many a weary mortal's heavy life-burden lighter.

The true Brownie Girl is not only merry among her mates but will have a bright smile and glad word to all whom she may meet, that sunshine may ever follow in her steps.

In the "Trail of the Sunbeam" the Brownie girls tread
Away from their pathway the shadows have fled.
Their gay, girlish laughter and dancing eyes bright
Makes everything light.

The club colors are brown and white. The emblem might be the brown oak leaf (meaning strong and steadfast) which, when other leaves fall in the autumn-time still clings to its parent tree till spring's new leaf-buds unfold, and it is no longer needed.

The club officers were chosen at the last meeting:—

Pres.—Lona Noble.
V. Pres.—Ethel Bradbury.
Sec-Treas.—Hortense Gates.

For fun, freedom and fancy work, and above all true firm friendship the name of the jolly "Brownie Girl" stands.

Next Tuesday evening the "Brownies" meet with Miss White.

Mrs. Mabel Godwin has returned from St. Petersburg, Florida, where she has been spending the winter.

Rand Dunham has finished work in the Light Co. office, and will soon go to Boston where he will enter the Conservatory of Music.

F. F. Bartlett, George W. Pettengill, J. E. Stearns, Henry Briggs, F. J. Carson and Harry Marx attended the Boston auto show.

The Maine Central railroad passenger station and adjoining baggage rooms at Rumford Falls were burned late Wednesday, the loss being over $10,000.

Dr. and Mrs. Harold Stanwood have returned from Portland, where they spent several days. The Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church held a food sale and served refreshments in F. F. Bartlett's store Saturday afternoon, Mar. 15.

Caught in the belting at the International mill, Peter Barker had a collar bone, arm and some ribs broken. He was taken to the McCarty hospital, where he is getting along as well as could be expected.

What might have been a serious fire was prevented Monday afternoon by the prompt and efficient work of the department. About three o'clock fire was discovered in the boiler room of the Cheney block under Bisbee's hardware store, the room being a roaring mass of flames, while between it and the store room for paints and oils there was only a thin partition.

BETHEL.

Rev. J. H. Little was called to Canton Mouday, to attend the funeral of George F. Johnson, an old resident and honored citizen of that place and a member of the G. A. R.

Fire at 1.30 A. M., Wednesday, caused by a defective chimney, burned the dwelling occupied by Fred J. Tibbetts and most of the furniture, though saved, was badly damaged. The loss is about $1200, and it is reported there is some insurance. This is the very old house known as the Packard house, on Main street. It is one of the oldest in town. It was bought recently by Mr. Tibbetts from H. A. Packard. The stable was not burned. It is understood that Mr. Tibbetts will rebuild.

W. W. Kilgore, of Popular Tavern, Newry, has leased that noted summer resort, and taken possession of his hotel here, "Maple Inn," and is about to make extensive improvements in the property. A thirty foot extension is to be added to the main part, on the street front, lengthening that out toward the railroad, then a wing will be run back from this new part, parallel with the old ell, leaving a court between. This will add to the available accomodations of the house, a new office, and a good number of new modern rooms for the accomodation of guests, and makes this one of the up-to-date stopping places for the traveling pubic.

Middle Intervale.

Minnie Copeland is at home sick.

Frances Carter has returned from a visit in Lewiston.

The sick ones in the home of Carey Stevens are better.

Grace Farwell is at home from Keene, N. H., where she has been at school.

We would pay a loving tribute to our departed friend, Mary Shirley, who, we hear has passed to the Higher Life. Her home was in Brooklyn, N. Y., but she, with the family of which she formed a part, spent much of their time in their summer home near us. Although an invalid, she had a natural cheer for all who beheld her face.

Grover Hill.

Several cases of the grip are reported here.

Georgia Frost of Norway is a guest at Fred Wheeler's.

Karl and Gwendolyn Stearns spent Sunday at East Bethel.

A. B. Grover went to the hospital for treatment, Wednesday morning.

Mrs. A. L. Whitman has returned home from a visit in Milan, N. H.

Marion Jordan of Mechanic Falls is spending her school vacation with her aunt, Mrs. Maurice Tyelr.

OTISFIELD GORE.

Ida M. Hill is spending a few days with friends and relatives in Portland.

Mrs. Ella E. Meserve is gaining and is now able to sit up in the wheel chair all day.

Helen, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Brett, has been ill with a bad cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield Holman attended the Advent County Conference in Mechanic Falls.

Mary Buck of South Harrison has been spending the past week with her sister, Mrs. Ruth Brett.

Manley Brett, who has been working in Tamworth, N. H., for the winter has been at home a few days.

Wednesday afternoon, March 12, a number of ladies met at the home of Mrs. Mabel Holman and organized a Ladies' Society Circle. Mrs. Mabel Holman was chosen chairman and Mrs. Frances Pingree, Mrs. Ida F. Grover and Mrs. Florence Locke were chosen committee to draw up the by-laws. Committee on entertainment were Grace Grover, Mrs. Florence Locke and Mrs. Ruth Brett; committee to visit the sick, Mrs. Ida F. Grover, Mrs. Bessie Durrell and Mrs. Julia Brett. The following officers for the coming year were elected by vote:

Pres.—Mrs. Mabel Holman.
V. Pres.—Ida Hill.
Sec.—Mrs. Frances Pingree.
Treas.—Mrs. Ida F. Grover.

After the business, cake and punch was served by the hostess. The next circle will meet with Mrs. Frances Pingree, March 26.

SOUTH OTISFIELD.

Mrs. Lizzie Shaw is sick.

Mrs. Eva Scribner and Clyde Thorn are visiting her mother in Turner.

A. S. Ames and son, Howard, have been visiting his brother a few days in North Windham.

Howard Fickett and wife spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scribner, in Casco.

Irvin Plummer, wife and daughter spent Saturday night and Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Hannah Jordan.

Doubly Proven

Advertiser Readers Can no Longer Doubt the Evidence.

This grateful citizen testified long ago,
Told of quick relief—of undoubted benefit.

The facts are now confirmed.

Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.

It forms convincing proof of merit.

Mrs. Frances S. Harlow, Skillings Ave., South Paris, Me., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and have always found them a good remedy for kidney and bladder trouble. They certainly strengthen the kidneys and relieve backache. I was feeling a little bad recently and knew that my kidneys needed a tonic. I got Doan's Kidney Pills and they gave me relief in a short time."

(Statement given July 25, 1908)

A Later Testimony.

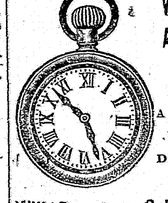

Mrs. Harlow was interviewed on May 1, 1912, and she said: "I am certainly grateful for what Doan's Kidney Pills have done for me. I confirm my former endorsement of them." 12 13

MAN GETS A NEW STOMACH

After trying to enjoy life for years with a no good stomach he gets wise.

"I was bothered for years with stomach trouble and gastritis. Food laid like lead in my stomach and fermented forming gas. This caused a pressure on my heart so that I choked and gasped for breath. I thought my time had come. MI-O-NA cured me after I had doctored without success."—Wm. V. Mathews, Bloomington, Ind.

Call it Gastritis, Catarrh of the stomach, Indigestion or Dyspepsia; it matters not. MI-O-NA Stomach Tablets will drive out all the misery and give you practically a new, clean, willing-to-work stomach or Noyes' Drug Store will refund the price.

That's honorable, isn't it? So if you want to get rid of your sour, gassy heavy, stupid, irresponsible stomach get a 50-cent box to day. 11-12

Children's Column.

East Stoneham, Me.

Dear Editor:—I saw in the Advertiser that some of the children had written so I thought I would like to write.

I live with my aunt, Mrs. Eugene McKeen and I like her very much. I am a little girl eleven years old. I go to school I am in the seventh grade, for books, geography, arithmetic, reading, spelling, history, writing. I live in Albany.

For pets I have a dog and a cat. We have a cow and a horse. My address is,
MISS FLORA WHEELER.

North Waterford, Maine, March, 1913.

Dear boys and girls:—As I have seen lots of letters for the Children's Column, I thought I would write too. I go to school and my teacher's name this year is Helen Howe of Norway. I have two sisters that go to school with me. I can slide most of the way to school.

We have a pair of horses and papa has recently bought a driver. My father is logging and I have drove his oxen some.

I spent my vacation with my grandpa, John Lord, Durham, Me., and had a very nice time.

Age 10 years. MYRON LORD.

North Waterford, Me.

Dear boys and girls:—As my brother has written I thought I would write too. I have three brothers and two sisters. I go to school with my brother and sister.

We have two cats and we have three cows and two calves. My sisters and I have a nice time with our dolls. I help my mama since the hired girl went away. I have a little brother four months old. I will close now. Good bye, from GWENDOLYN LORD.

Age, 9 years old.

Oxford, Me., March 4, 1913.

Dear girls and boys:—As I am taking the Advertiser, I thought I would write a short letter. I like to read the letters that the boys and girls write very much.

My father has two yokes of oxen, one horse whose name is Fan, two cows, seven heifers, three steers, two cats and one dog whose name is Rover.

I like to slide on the hill by my home. It is pretty good sliding now. I have one brother and two sisters. Their names are Cleon Elmore, Carrie Ethelyn, and Florence Mildred. Cleon is ten years old, Carrie, seven, will be eight, Easter Sunday. Florence is five years old. Will close now. Age 9.

Yours sincerely,
CLEONA ESTELLE PERKINS.

Albany, Hunt's Corner, Me.
Feb. 24, 1913.

Dear boys and girls:—This is my second letter to the Advertiser. I like to read the other letters very much. I have kept house for the last six weeks for my father and two brothers and little sister. My mother and oldest sister work out.

A number of the boys and girls here at Hunt's Corner have been sliding evenings a number of times this winter. We enjoy it very much.

ELLA KENISTON.

North Waterford, Me.

Dear Editor:—It has been quite a little time since I wrote for the paper. I go to the North Waterford primary school. My teacher's name is Miss Helen Howe. I like her very much. There are about 45 children in my school.

I like to read the letters that the girls and boys write. We observed Washington's birthday in our school Friday. I guess I have written enough for this time. I will close with a riddle:

Why was George Washington like a piano?

MADELINE MAE RICE.

East Andover, Me., Feb. 26, 1913.

Dear Editor and friends:—Well we are having a fine old winter, but it has been very cold lately.

One of our little folks put a riddle to us about sixteen ounces and a little boy at the piano. I suppose they both make a pound, don't they? Well, you will have to tell me difference for I can't, and that makes me think of another. What is the difference between a cabbage and an onion. Give it up? Well, we will send some one else after the cabbage. Then answer to my last riddle was Book for they are all sizes thick, thin, some will make you laugh and some will make you weep, and all have lots of pages.

Now here is another:

Two brothers were walking
Together one day,
When the elder one called
On a niece by the way.

The younger he laughed,
I am happy to say
I have not any niece,
Which was true every way.

Will you who can trace
Relationship dim,
Please tell us this lady's
Relation to him.

I hope some of you can puzzle this out, if not I will tell you what the answer is.

I can tell our column is improving and I hope to see lots more letters from the children. Good bye to each and every one.

INA MAY BROWN.

Botha Alta, Canada, Feb. 23, 1913.

Dear children:—As I see some of your letters in the Children's Column of the Advertiser, I thought I would try and write too.

I am from Rumford Falls. My papa was formerly from Norway. My papa's name is Elmer E. York and maybe you all know him. He is John York's son of Waterford. We came from Rumford Falls to Canada two years ago and like out here pretty well.

My papa bought me a pony. I have got a pussy cat and she catches mice.

Well this letter is getting long so I will close for this time in hopes to see my letter in print.

MISS INEZ YORK.
Canada Girl. Age 10 years.

The Adventures of Marlena.

There was once a little girl and her name was Marlena. One day she went out in the woods and got lost. When trying to find her way out she came upon a little cottage, and an old lady came out, bent with age.

"What do you want here," she said.

"Oh I am lost," said our brave little Marlena.

"Come, have some dinner," said the old woman.

"All right," said Marlena.

Then all of a sudden as she was going in she saw a girl strapped to a post. Then she knew that she was in a witch's house and tried to think of excuses but none of them worked. All the old witch would say was: "You had better not try any tricks on me."

Night came on and she put her in the cellar with the rats and lizzards but she kept so quiet that they did not know she was there. Then to her surprise she saw a hole in the side of the wall. She went to it and crawled out. It was growing light. Then she ran and ran until she saw ahead of her a city and then her house.

"Now my child," she said, "You must tell us how you got lost."

Then she told her the whole story and she was never allowed to go into the woods again. I don't think she would if she could. Written by

MISS DOROTHY SPINNEY, age 11 years.

Bethel, Me.

Dear Editor and Children:—I went up Saturday to see my schoolmate and his sister, Eva Farwell, and had a fine time. I walked a mile alone through the woods but I was not afraid for God is everywhere.

I saw the cows and horses and sheep and oxen and hens and dog and cats and kittens. Robert hitched the steers onto a sled and Eva and Robert and I had a ride. The horse's names are Fred and Mary. The man that made a fiddle and plays on it wants a housekeeper, lives nearby.

Today, Sunday, I read in my Bible, Psalms 21. I am learning the 23d Psalm and the 13th chapter of 1st Corinthians.

I am making a scrap book.

Mama and I had a letter from a soldier friend at Togus, The National Soldier's Home. He said there was hardly any snow there and very cold. He wrote a good letter. He was a comrade of mama's brother in the army. He was there three years. What a brave man to help save our flag! We hope he will come here to live with us.

I have a valentine card with no name signed with these words:

I wonder if you know who loves you well!
Because if you cannot guess I needn't tell.

I guess it was dear cousin Methel D. Packard.

I will send you my Sunday verses.

Good-bye. MARGUERITE CHAPLIN.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and the mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

A Strong Bank Should Be Seasoned by Experience

Its strength should be proven by financial disorders and business calamities. The record of this Bank is one to be proud of. Over a period of forty-one years its policy of conservatism combined with progressiveness has brought to it the growing confidence of the public generally and the active support of its friends. The result is exhibited in the concrete fact that its deposits have increased over $100,000.00 in the past eight years.

Having these elements of strength and order; a good management, large resources, a large cash reserve and a good record, the Norway National Bank asks you, with assurance, to open an account and enjoy the privileges which it confers.

Conscience.

'Twixt my stern New England Conscience
And my Oriental heart,
Life is one long "battle-royal,"
Conscience often has to smart.
She is so extremely narrow,
Unsympathetic, cold,
That it chills her to the marrow,—
The sins my heart can hold.
I would break off all acquaintance
With her, but she won't consent.
Says she "queened it" o'er the ancients,
And to reign now she's content.
But for every least infraction
Of her mandates, good or bad,
She makes haste to get in action
In a way she's always had.
And my poor heart, Oriental,
Gives up forbidden joys,
For far from ornamental
Are the methods she employs.
Poor heart, I'm sorry for you,
If only I were free
From Conscience's iron clutches,
I'd like to roam with thee.
We'd fare forth through unknown meadows
We would travel hand in hand,
Aye, we'd penetrate the shadows
Of the vast, "Forbidden Land."
But you're such a poor, weak coward,
I could not depend on you
To help me battle forward,
If Conscience came in view.
So I think I better follow
Her mandates hard and stern,
But the bitter's hard to swallow
When for the sweet we yearn.
Come Conscience, rough old soldier,
Tough, doughty Amazon—
Bind your burden on my shoulder,
We'd best be moving on.

From Real Life.

As I Remember It.

My uncle, Joseph Sturtevant lived near the head of the Umbagog Lake. He wanted to do a little logging nearby there, so he had a little camp where they could build a fire and go in and eat their dinner.

His oldest son, Alvin, lived away most of the time, and his youngest brother, Samuel, lived in Lowell for a long time. These two were always on the best of terms, and met and one day and devised a plan to go up the lake and make a visit to "Uncle Joe's."

Arriving at his wilderness home, they found he was gone. so they thought of a way to give him a good surprise. It did not take long, acting upon the old saying that, "Two heads are better than one, if one is a sheep's head," and for heads that were so full of fun as theirs were, and a ready will to carry it out. It was indeed rather mortifying for the one upon whom they played their joke.

They went down in his logging road, and found he had gone to the landing with a load of logs, but they could hear him now and then speak to his oxen, "Gee Star, you old rascal!" They knew his voice, so they stopped and slid down behind a big pine stump. Soon they heard him coming back, he was riding on the "bob sled." not much back to his carriage.

As soon as the oxen came along where the boys were they began to look wild, and tried to turn off the other side. Uncle Joe put the goard stick on to them and made use of very strong language to urge them along, but no; just then out jumped the son and brother from behind the old pine stump, and over went Uncle Joe backwards and the oxen went as fast as they could with a heavy sled fastened to them and up quite a steep hill.

It would not sound well, to repeat here what the dear old gentleman said to the boys, just then as he picked himself up, and stepped along to them, not knowing who they were. His goard stick was raised high in the air as he threatened them; he looked at them a minute, then put one end of his stick in the snow and tried to speak, but a big lump came in his throat, so he could only stand there with tears in his eyes—speechless—for a minute, for Uncle Joe had a tender heart. But little more logging done that day.

There were two girls in the family about my age, fifteen and seventeen years of age. They were told not to take the horse out of the barn that my uncle came with, for he was vicious, not fit for a woman to handle. They were busy eating and talking, when they missed the girls and looking out of the window they saw one of the girls was on Uncle Sam's horse, and the other on a very high spirited colt, going at full gallop from the place where they watered them some ways off.

There were ten children in this family, five boys and five girls, none of whom are living now.

David M. Sturtevant lived down on the river for a long time, he has not been dead over three years. He owned a good deal of wild land there from which he realized a good deal of money, as much of it was timber land. Three times he put a dam at the foot of Pleasant Pond, only to have it go out when it was high water, and then gave it up as a bad job. He built a mill there and did some work, but it cost him much money.

His buildings were burned, but he immediately built another set that cost a great deal more. The barn was one hundred feet long by forty-four feet wide, and finished up nice. The house was finished up nice for that place, and furnished with chamber sets.

He was a very persevering, energetic, generous, kind hearted man.

After his wife and children died he selected a nice spot for a little burying ground, built a good fence and enclosed it nicely. He hired a man to enclose the graves in split granite and a stone was placed at each grave representing the little girl or boy as they were. I remember one, her name was Vesta, a little lamb was carved out on the stone at the head, and well she might be represented in this way, for she was lamblike in her short life in this world, dear little girl. The father is sleeping beside them now, and the place he cared for so long and well is fast going to decay.

The house of Mrs. Mary Lovejoy occupied by her daughter, Mrs. Norcross and family caught fire, March 12th and burned to the ground. It took fire around the chimney. Insured for $300. The family have moved into the building at the city, formerly used for the Grange store.

Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary, formerly of Oxford County, has left Maine for Washington, and sailed Saturday from New York for Rome where he will be presented with a medal by the Royal Italian Geographical Society of Rome in honor of the discovery of the North Pole. Herbert L. Bridgham, secretary of the Peary Arctic Club, who with Mrs. Peary, Miss Marie and Robert E. Peary, jr. accompanied him, delivered an address before the society. The party will go to Egypt and return to this country in June.

The Curse.

A True Story.

Years and years ago, in fact before the Revolutionary war, when this country was governed by a king, where now are the familiar fields, pastures, houses and all else that make a town, it was a deep thick woods.

In places towering pines cast their dark shadows on the soft brown needles beneath; in others sturdy old oaks and beeches spread out their gnarly arms and scattered ripe nuts to the scampering squirrels beneath, who gathered them unmolested; the shy gentle rabbit knew not the relentless bay of the pursuing hound, and but for the occasional visit of the red men, the solitary lakes remained unseen by human eyes.

But in far off Boston some writing was done which called into being from out the unbroken forests the future town of Otisfield. The ancient record of this writing may still be read by any one who is interested in the early history of this state. Also the records are still in being of the numerous meetings of the proprietors of this tract of land; of the naming of the new township, Otisfield; and finally the record of the coming of the pioneer, who built a sawmill on the biggest river which proved so crooked that it could be called nothing else but Crooked river.

To encourage the settling of the thirty families which was in the terms of the original grant, the proprietors offered a free gift of land to the first child born in the new town. And thereby comes down the story of the cursed land,—a story that is all but lost in the lapse of time. As it was told to me,—there were two children born at about the same time, one the child of poor-obscure parents, the other a child of one of the foremost, prosperous settlers of boasted ancestry and prestige. The child of the poor parents was really the first born, but by some reason no one knew just how, the report went to the proprietors that it was [the] other child, so the land was given and deeded not to the rightful owner, but to one not deserving it.

When this became known to the other family, the old grandmother or great grandmother, (who was reckoned a witch by some) came all the way up through the forest till she arrived at the edge of piece of land when she spread out her hands and pointing to every part of the lost land, cursed it and said, "It shall ever more be barren and unfaithful."

Well, the land may still be seen by anyone wishing to ascertain the effect of the curse.

The one who told the story to me is gone and with her many an old tale of the early days of Otisfield.

ALBANY.

Charlotte Elliott Marston.

In Albany, March 1, occurred the death of Charlotte, widow of Herbert Marston, who died Dec. 15, 1912.

Mrs. Marston was born in Lovell, Aug. 21, 1829, the daughter of Jones and Mary Chandler Elliott. Of this large family of children but two are left, Mrs. Joel Allard of Lovell and Alonzo S. Elliott, a highly respected citizen of Johnstown, Penn.

She had been an invalid for eight years, during the long course of painful confinement she bore her sufferings with great patience and submitted to the will of Him Whose providences are dictated by wisdom and love.

At an early age she united with the Congregational church at Lovell Center, of which she was still a member.

Mother, thou hast gone and left us
And our home is lonely now,
But we know you are with loved ones
With a crown upon your brow.

All your married life you lived here,
Children came to cheer your days;
Hard you toiled for those around you,
Teaching them in wisdom's ways.

Years you worked without complaining
For the ones that God had given;
Till one day He took your baby
To His happy home in Heaven.

Always ready, ever waiting
For to help the poor or sick,
When the neighbor's children sickened,
Always sent for you so quick.

Still you lived for home and loved ones,
Helping them in sore distress,
Now we know you're sweetly resting
On the Saviour's gentle breast.

Gone were husband, father, mother,
Brothers too have crossed the tide;
May we try to live and meet them
When we cross the other side.

The Easy Laxative

In justice to yourself you should try Rexall Orderlies,—your money back if you don't like them. They are a candy confection that really do give easy relief from constipation.

Good health is largely dependent upon the bowels. When they become sluggish the waste material that is thrown off by the system accumulates. This condition generates poisons which circulate throughout the body, tending to create coated tongue, bad breath, headache, dull brain action, nervousness, biliousness and other annoyances.

Avoid harsh cathartics and physics. They give but temporary relief. They often aggravate the real trouble. They are particularly bad for children, delicate or aged persons.

Rexall Orderlies

Come in tablet form, taste just like candy and are noted for their easy, soothing action upon the bowels. They don't purge, gripe, cause nausea, looseness, nor the inconveniences attendant upon the use of purgatives. Their action is so pleasant that the taking of Rexall Orderlies almost becomes a desire instead of a duty.

Children like Rexall Orderlies. They are ideal for aged or delicate persons as well as for the most robust. They act toward relieving constipation, and also to overcome its cause and to make unnecessary the frequent use of laxatives. They serve to tone and strengthen the nerves and muscles of the bowels and associate organs or glands.

Make Us Prove It

We guarantee to refund every penny paid us for Rexall Orderlies if they do not give entire satisfaction. We ask no promises and we in no way obligate you. Your mere word is sufficient for us to promptly and cheerfully refund the money.

Doesn't that prove that Rexall Orderlies must be right? You must know we would not dare make such a promise unless we were positively certain that Rexall Orderlies will do all we claim for them. There is no money risk attached to a trial of Rexall Orderlies, and in justice to yourself, you should not hesitate to test them.

Rexall Orderlies come in convenient vest-pocket size tin boxes; 12 tablets, 10c; 36 tablets, 25c; 80 tablets, 50c.

CAUTION: Please bear in mind that Rexall Remedies are not sold by all druggists. You can buy Rexall Orderlies only at The Rexall Stores.

You can buy Rexall Orderlies in this community only at our store:

It is all right to eat mushrooms if one is dead sure they are mushrooms, but it doesn't pay to take any risks considering their rather limited food value.

The vacuum cleaner is said to have proved the best flea eradicator yet discovered for the use of the scratchy dog. The suggestion would seem to be worth a trial.

Succulent and appetizing messes of string beans may be had the latter part of September and early in October if the seed is planted in July. We have tried this and find it well worth the trouble.

Experience with ground grain in feeding tests seems to indicate that with animals that are provided with good teeth the advantage of grinding is just about offset by the cost of the operation.

It is little wonder that alfalfa laughs at dry weather when once it gets well rooted, for in some sections of the west its roots have been found to penetrate to as great a depth as thirty feet in alluvial soils.

An effective spray for the protection of garden truck from the attacks of plant lice may be made by boiling one pound of tobacco stems or any cheap tobacco in a gallon of water, straining and diluting with cold water to two gallons.

It's a pretty stingy old codger that has the nerve to take any of his wife's poultry money for tobacco after she has sat up nights with incubators and trotted around in the rain to keep the chickens from drowning during a heavy rainstorm.

Next to the birds that frequent the garden, the best friends its owner has in the capacity of insect destroyers are the toads that make headquarters in it. The little chaps are not handsome to look upon, but they should be protected in every way possible.

It is a matter of congratulation that so far this season practically no damage has been reported as a result of forest fires. Things may get dry as tinder between now and October, but present weather indications do not seem to point in that direction.

A New Jersey man who has lived to be 100 years old advises those who desire long life "to be optimists, not pessimists, not to worry, to take plenty of exercise, drink lots of buttermilk and get plenty of fresh air." The recipe seems to be a good one.

Pigs cannot be raised with profit without a good pasture. Clover makes a first class pasture, and so does orchard grass. An orchard makes an ideal pasture for pigs. The shade is absolutely necessary to protect the young pigs from the blistering sun.

It is doubtful if there is any article of food that is so good as milk as a ration for rundown folk. It is readily digested and assimilated and acts directly along the line of enriching the blood and strengthening the system. Milk is worth all it costs from the standpoint of food value and is far cheaper than medicine.

Tasmania, a little island to the south of eastern Australia, last year exported 745,104 bushel cases of apples and pears, most of them being shipped to the United Kingdom. These shipments are sure to increase, and, in preparation for this, markets are already being sought by the Tasmanian producers in Germany, Denmark and Sweden.

The Silo For Beef Production.

Heretofore the only chance for profit in winter feeding of cattle has been in the margin between the prices of the feeders in the fall and the finished beeves in the spring. This margin had to more than compensate for the loss on the gains put on in the feed lot. If the cost of production could be so reduced that the gains secured would pay the cost of production the chief element of uncertainty would be eliminated. This is where the silo makes good. Not only does it save the entire crop, but it reduces the feeding cost to a profitable basis.

DANGEROUS POTATO ILL.

Fungicides of No Use In Controlling Foreign Wart Disease.

In a bulletin on "Two Dangerous Imported Plant Diseases," issued by the United States department of agriculture, it is stated that the wart disease of the potato has not yet reached the United States, but has been introduced into Newfoundland from Europe.

Extensive experiments have been conducted in England with various fungicides and variety tests of potatoes. There seems to be a consensus of opinion that fungicides are not efficacious in controlling the disease. The following chemicals have been used on the soil with unsatisfactory results: Sulphur, soot, quicklime, ground lime, formalin, ferrous sulphate, calcium bisulphate, potassium bisulphite, calcium sulphite, sodium borate, potassium sulphid, copper sulphate and lead acetate. Experiments were also conducted by sprinkling the sets before planting with sulphur, lime, lime and sulphur, soot and soot and sulphur with equally unsatisfactory results.

Better results are claimed to have been obtained by testing different varieties of potatoes. A number of varieties have been found to be resistant in England, but one authority maintains that "all the best varieties of potatoes—i. e., all those most profitable to grow, are excluded as susceptible." He also states that one variety said to be immune is very susceptible to late blight. None of these varieties are of commercial importance in America.

At present crop rotation is the best method of dealing with the disease. Unlike late blight, which is checked some years by climatic conditions, the wart disease when once in the soil grows worse each year on land that is planted to potatoes. Since the fungus has been known to live in the soil for eight years, potatoes should not be planted in that soil during that period. Fortunately, so far as known the fungus attacks no other crop.

A vigorous effort should be made, if found in the United States, to eradicate the trouble. All infected tubers should be boiled or burned, and no more potatoes should be planted on that field for eight years. Stock should not be allowed to run over infected areas, and no part of any lot containing diseased potatoes should be used for seed purposes.

TWO SIDES OF THE STORY.

"It got so toward the middle of the shipping season," said one disgusted grower, "that I just turned my melons over to the distributors and forgot about them. I didn't even inquire to find out what had become of them, I knew it was no use."

"You get busy and create a market," said another distributor. "Don't wait for orders to come in. Get a move on. Get out and see the trade. Tell 'em we've got melons to sell at a reasonable price. Show 'em the goods. Hustle!"—Country Gentleman.

One of the common mistakes beginners make in feeding brood sows is feeding too much corn. Corn is a splendid food for hogs, but it must not be fed in too large quantities to brood sows or pigs.

COST US MANY MILLIONS.

Insect Pests That Might Have Been Kept Out of the United States.

That the United States stands constantly in danger of having some agricultural pest or disease introduced from a foreign country, just as the San Jose scale was introduced from China about thirty years ago, that will absolutely ruin certain branches of agriculture was one of the significant statements made by Edward A. Seaton of Minot, N. D., the speaker who represented the students of the college of agriculture at the commencement exercises of the University of Wisconsin. The only way to ward off this peril, said Mr. Seaton, is to provide a strict system of quarantine which will rigidly exclude all diseased plants from the country and a good domestic quarantine system that will confine destructive insects and plant diseases to the localities where they are discovered.

"In no other country in the world do insects and plant diseases impose a heavier tax on farm products than in the United States," declared Mr. Seaton. "They take fully 20 per cent of our crops and entail a loss to agriculture of $1,000,000,000 a year.

"This situation has been brought about simply by the introduction of diseases and pests from foreign lands," continued the speaker. "Three-fourths of our pests and diseases are of foreign origin, and the number is constantly increasing. The San Jose scale, the codlin moth, the Hessian fly, even the common house fly, are all of foreign origin, and they all could have been excluded by proper quarantine measures.

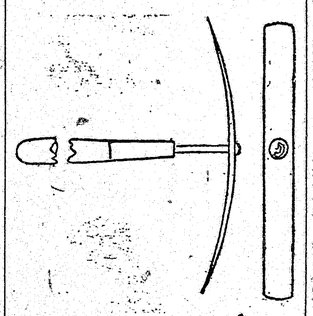

"The United States is the only important nation of the world which does not provide for such quarantine. Even Turkey will not permit the importation of American nursery stock, and Germany will admit no American potatoes."

MADE FROM BUGGY SPRING.

Old Steel May Be Converted Into a Useful Garden Tool.

The hoe made thus gives better results as a cultivating tool than any manufactured tool I have been able to procure, says a letter in the Home and Farm. The blade consists of the shortest leaf of an old buggy spring. Such springs are usually found laying around country blacksmith shops, and the work of converting it into this useful hoe is a matter of but a few minutes or an hour at most. The spring will be found to have a hole in the center at the place to insert the shank, but it will be necessary to ream it out larger with a drill, which the blacksmith can do. The shank may be made of a half inch rod. Make the hole in the spring blade three-eighths inch and file a shoulder to the end of the shank rod to just fit the hole in the hoe blade tight, then insert and rivet or brad down tight. If an ordinary goose neck hoe handle, the blade of which has been discarded, is at hand, it will make a very good handle for the garden hoe, but if not it is no big job to make a handle, and a short piece of three-quarter inch pipe will make a good ferule, and its extra weight will be found of use when using the hoe. I have been using this hoe in my garden for some time and find it easy to dig deep and thoroughly cultivate the plants. I hope that this reminder will cause many old thrown away buggy springs to be converted into useful tools instead of being allowed to rust out.

HOMEMADE GARDEN HOE, MADE OF AN OLD BUGGY SPRING.
[From Home and Farm.]

Forcing Crops by Electricity.

A British immigrant to Canada proposes to force his crops by heating the soil by underground electric wires spaced about five feet apart and one foot under the surface, twenty-five miles of wire being required for twenty acres of ground. The effect sought appears to be the equivalent of a continuous, strong and penetrating sunshine on a glass house system, but with the further advantage of ability to regulate the heat to a nicety.—Scientific American.

There is great promise in the fact that whole classes of graduates of agricultural colleges go back to the farms, having learned how to make them profitable.—Secretary James Wilson, United States Department of Agriculture.

SOUTH HIRAM.

Mrs. Ruth Gould.

The remains of Mrs. Ruth Gould of Conway, N. H., were brought here for burial, Thursday. She was the widow of the late Freeman Gould, and was formerly a resident of South Hiram. For many years she has made her home with her youngest daughter, Mrs. Goldie Thompson of Conway.

About two weeks ago she sustained the second shock from which she never rallied, and all that medical skill and loving hands could do was of no avail.

She leaves three daughters and one son, Mrs. Olive McDaniels of Porter, Mrs. Alice Libby of South Hiram, Eri Gould of Quincy, Mass., and Mrs. Goldie Thompson, besides a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

The funeral services were held at South Hiram church, Thursday afternoon, and words of comfort were spoken by Rev. Cymbrid Hughes.

Isaac Gould of Limerick was in town, Thursday.

Jacob Stanley has a crew of men picking brown tail moths.

Charles and Mell Smith went to Portland, Wednesday, on business.

Mrs. John Stanley has gone to Boston for a few days' visit with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorin Spring went to Sebago, Sunday, to work for the summer.

Mrs. Eliza French went to Ossipee, Wednesday, to help care for her son's wife, who is sick.

Arthur Smith is very sick with the measles, and there are several cases of chicken pox around here.

Mrs. Hannah Fox, a very smart old lady of 82 years, fell on the ice, Saturday, morning, and broke her shoulder. Physicians set the bone and she is as comfortable as can be expected.

HEBRON.

The Ladies' Circle met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. A. M. Richardson.

Easter will be observed with a concert by the children at the usual time of the morning service. The committee in charge are Mrs. A. M. Richardson, Mrs. F. H. Marshall and Mrs. W. J. Merrill.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Farwell have returned to their home here after spending the winter in Massachusetts.

Thomas Vasbam and family came from his logging camp in Grafton Monday, bringing forty-five horses and he has some more to come. He says he has made a good winter's work.

Willard Johnson has moved from the the rent by the station to the house across the railroad. Mr. Richardson from Shelbourne, N. H., has moved into the rent vacated by Johnson.

Charlie Denison from Auburn, Ind., arrived here Sunday morning on the early train to make a short visit with his father and mother; also Walter Dennison and family from South Paris came up Saturday night for a few days visit.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to the singers, to those who sent flowers and to all who so kindly extended to us sympathy and help in our recent bereavement.

O. N. ABBOTT.
K. M. ABBOTT.

Harrison, Maine.

HARRISON.

In Memoriam.

Mrs. Zebulon Abbott passed away at her home on Main street, Harrison, Tuesday, March 4.

She was born in Limington, June 29, 1833, the daughter of Asa and Sally Dyer. She moved to Waterford in early childhood where she lived with her uncle and aunt until she was married to Zebulon Abbott of that town. They resided on Temple Hill until about seventeen years ago, then moved to Harrison Village, Mr. Abbott's native place.

She leaves a son, O. N. Abbott, a daughter, K. M. Abbott and one sister to ever mourn her loss.

She was a woman that loved her home, and found great pleasure and happiness in doing her part in every way to make it cheerful and pleasant for her family, her many friends and associates.

Such beautiful, beautiful hands!
They're neither white nor small,
And you, I know, would scarcely think
That they were fair at all.
I've looked on hands whose form and hue
A sculptor's dream might be,
Yet are those aged wrinkled hands
Most beautiful to me.

Such beautiful, beautiful hand!
Though the heart was weary and sad,
The patient hands keep toiling on,
That the children might be glad.
I almost weep, as looking back
To childhood's distant day,
I think how these hands rested not
When mine were at their play.

Such beautiful, beautiful hands!
They're growing feeble now,
For time and pain have left their mark
On hand and heart and brow.
Alas! Alas! the nearing time,
And the sad, sad day to me
When 'neath the daisies, out of sight,
These hands will folded be.

Funeral services were ably conducted at her late home by Rev. Mrs. J. B. Coy, pastor of the Free Baptist church. The floral tributes were modest and very choice, consisting of green and white. A quartet beautifully rendered two selections.

Dell Lord is confined to his home by illness.

Mrs. Edith B. Bartlett of Belfast is a guest of relatives in town.

Nearly half the inhabitants of our village are suffering from the prevailing epidemic.

The Congregational church is being wired for electric lights. Wiring is done by Ernest Ward.

George A. Flint had the misfortune to step on a nail, Thursday, consequently is suffering with a lame foot.

R. L. Davis met with an accident while working in the woods, Thursday. He is getting along nicely, however.

Raymond Whitney and wife have returned to town and moved into the Henry Pulsifer house on Front street.

Mrs. Fred Pitts was unable to sing in her accustomed place at the Congregational church, Sunday, on account of illness.

The Free Baptists held a circle supper and short entertainment in the I. O. O. F. banquet hall, Wednesday evening of last week.

Mrs. Fred C. Green drew the prize of a silver set in the voting contest of the North American Medicine Company for the most popular lady in town.

Easter will be observed next Sunday morning at the Congregational church. There will be special music by a large chorus of voices, with Mrs. Edith Burnham Bartlett of Belfast as soloist. The children will also assist in the service. Ada D. Flint, organist.

POX AMONG POULTRY.

Doctors will wrangle. One bunch of quacks call that wart on the rooster's nose "epithélioma contagiosum," another coterie calls it "cutaneous psorospermosis," while a third will have it that it's the protozoa bungs the rooster, but the fourth argues that it's the blastomycetes.

The new school throws its hat into the coop and declares it's sanguinous. While these quacks fuss and cuss and skin the dictionary for longer names we'll simply call it warts, chicken pox. It attacks most of the feathered tribe, is more prevalent among young stock, late hatches in particular and kills much poultry in the warm states.

TURKEY WITH POX.

Moisture seems necessary to develop this fungous disease, the fungi multiplying fast in the wet and bacteria in hot weather.

It is common during late summer and fall rains, and a henhouse or pigeon loft that is damp or where water falls from leaky roof on to droppings is a chicken pox generator.

These contagious warts are generally confined to head except with pigeons, where they often spread over neck, wings, legs and rumps. They reach full development in five to ten days, are yellow at first, soon show central depression, open, have yellow discharge and sometimes turn black, dry up and fall off, and fowl recovers without treatment. But where there is not such resistance the head is covered, eyes close, fowl starves and dies.

Often, especially with pigeons, the inflammation spreads to the membrane of the mouth and throat, white patches appear, and this complication makes it difficult to cure.

Affected fowls should be isolated and premises disinfected.

Warts should be gently removed and covered with carbolized vaseline or sulphur ointment. Remove canker and apply hydrogen peroxide. For canker in pigeons blow burnt alum on the sores.

To prevent pox keep houses clean and dry, hatch early and save fowls from exposure to fall rains.

DON'TS.

Don't let your enthusiasm fizzle because of a failure. Failures make fellows with stamina think more, hustle harder and get there.

Don't economize on feed or the hens will economize on eggs. Great layers are great eaters.

Don't think you can succeed at poultry if you have failed at everything else unless you have recently married a woman of mind and muscle to manage you and yours.

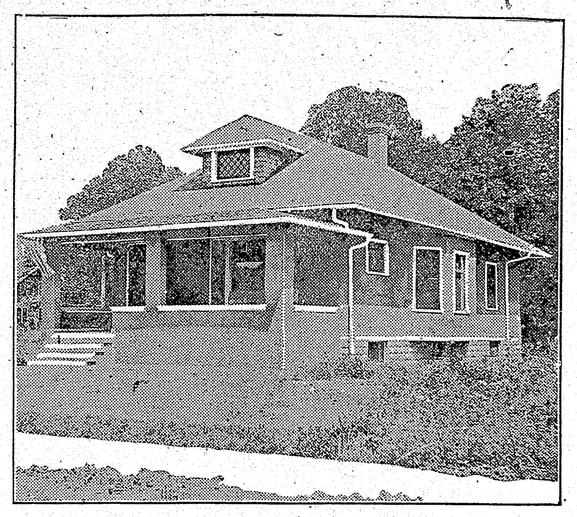

Don't keep the open front curtain up at night when there is heavy fog, and always have a roost closet clean and well ventilated.

Don't forget that fruit trees rightly cared for not only furnish shade, but often pay the feed bills and more.

ROUGH CAST CEMENT BUNGALOW.

Design 2H, by Glenn A. Saxton, Architect, Minneapolis, Minn.

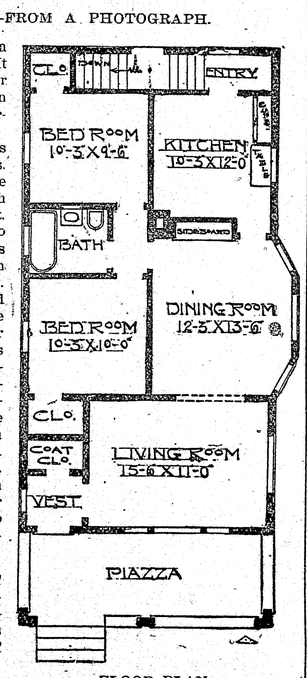

PERSPECTIVE VIEW—FROM A PHOTOGRAPH.

This bungalow can be put on a twenty-five foot lot if necessary. It has been built a number of times for a real estate investment, and the plan has proved very popular, also a practical one to build.

There is a large living room across the front and two good bedrooms. Stairway to the basement and grade door for same in the rear, which make a very practical arrangement. There can also be a stairway going to the attic above this stairway if one is desired, and one good sized room could be finished in the second story. The exterior of the house is covered with gray rough cast cement. The cement can be left the natural color or it can be given one or two coats waterproof any color that owner desires. This house makes a very convenient and modern plan for a building where the owner desires to have all the rooms on one floor. There is a basement under the entire building. First story ceiling height is nine feet. The house is planned to be finished in southern pine or birch, with birch or maple floors. Size 22 by 42. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, $1,850.

Upon receipt of $1 the publisher of this paper will supply a copy of Saxton's books of plans entitled "American Dwellings." The book contains 240 new and up to date designs of cottages, bungalows and residences costing from $1,000 to $6,000.

FLOOR PLAN.

CIVIC ACTIVITY IN MANY FORMS

Child Labor, Tuberculosis and Playgrounds Claim Attention.

FOUR SUCCESSFUL METHODS.

The Survey, the City Plan, the Campaign and the Permanent Organization Fundamental Means of Obtaining Municipal Improvement.

We are living in a new era. Whoever passes with open eye through this country today will see the evidences of a new civic spirit on every side, says Henry S. Curtis, Ph. D. Everywhere new social organizations are springing into being. City and state organizations are uniting to form national or international ones, and civic activity is becoming the fashion throughout the United States and even in European countries. Germany is especially active in this respect.

The rate of progress is accelerating with each year, as any observation of the growth of the child labor movement, of the anti-tuberculosis movement, of the playground movement or of the boy scout movement will reveal. Probably less than 10 per cent of those who are giving of their time and money to civic causes today were thus active fifteen years ago.

An analysis of recent movements seems to show at least four fundamental methods more or less common to and equally applicable to all on which their success has largely depended. They are the survey, the city plan, the campaign and the permanent organization.

The best of these methods is the survey, the study and analysis of social conditions or the physician's diagnosis of the case. The doctor of old diagnosed his case into measles or typhoid and treated this. The modern doctor has carried his analysis one step farther back. Through research he has discovered the bacillus that produced the disease and the serum that will destroy it. He is no longer fighting an unknown enemy in the dark, but applies his remedy with much greater exactness to the source of the trouble.

In the same way it is impossible to deal scientifically with social ills until we have the same sort of diagnosis. Dependence or delinquency cannot be treated successfully as things in themselves any more than typhoid. They are mere phenomena, and the cure must go back to the causes. If one of the chief sources of these conditions is industrial accidents then building orphan asylums and reformatories cannot solve the problem. It can only take care of the product. It is the same sort of wisdom that would lead physicians to spend their chief efforts in laying out cemeteries instead of treating diseases.

This method of the survey has generally been recognized as necessary in medicine and a few other fields, but it has not usually been thought of as a universal method, which should be the first step or nearly the first step in every social movement.

Yet if the question is the establishment of playgrounds the city or town needs to know what play spaces the children have at present in the dooryards and courts, in streets and alleys, in the parks and schoolyards; also what physical and moral dangers surround this play, what vicious amusements are open to children and what are the results in evil habits and delinquency, in lack of resourcefulness and in physical weakness of this restriction and perversion of the play life.

If the movement is one to reduce mortality among infants, then the town needs to know the infant death rate, the diseases of which the children die and the causes of these diseases, where the death rate is highest in the town and the causes of this variation.

If the movement is for the prevention of juvenile delinquency, then the town needs to know the prevalence of delinquency, its relation to race and poverty, to parks and playgrounds, to saloons and alleys, and what sort of offenses are committed in the different sections.

Every movement, of course, makes some offhand diagnosis of its case, but it is often like the diagnosis of the country doctor a generation ago, who looked at your tongue, felt of your pulse and then prescribed something "to make you feel better." There can be no certain remedies until the causes of the trouble are known, and, despite recent progress, more thorough and scientific investigation of the conditions is one of the greatest needs still.

KEZAR FALLS.

A Pleasant Reunion.

Saturday, the 15th day of March, Mrs. Jordan Stacy invited some of her friends to meet with her, the occasion being the 81st anniversary of her natal day. The house was beautifully decorated with flowers, and a shower of birthday cards covered the center table. As Mrs. Stacy had just recovered from a long illness, her restoration to health added greatly to the general pleasure of her guests.

During a lull in the conversation Mrs. Herbert Doe read a fine poem by Holman Day. "Reminiscences;" Sadie Sweatt sung "Face to Face," accompanying herself on the piano, and little Muriel Doe gave three recitations.

A delicious collation, consisting of sandwiches, cake, coffee and ice cream was served.

At the close of the afternoon the guests departed to their respective homes, realizing they had enjoyed a most delightful reunion.

Mrs. G. W. Towle was taken suddenly very ill, Monday.

The ice has gone out of the river and the caw of the crow is heard in the land.

Friday night the "Come and Welcome" class gave a social. Mr. and Mrs. Perley Cross were host and hostess. Edgecomb's orchestra rendered fine music, and cake, coffee and games enlivened the evening.

Palm Sunday was observed in the M. E. church, by a sermon prepared by Rev. Cymbrid Hughes, expressly for the children, who based his sermon on the text, "And the streets of the city were filled with children." There was also a baptism, George Merrill being received into the church.

WATERFORD.

Georgia Miller is still ill.

Schools are to close Friday, the 28th.

Annie Abbott is reported to be gaining.

Susan Wilkins, who was quite ill last week, is improving.

Marion Coye is visiting relatives and friends in Winchester and Cambridge, Mass.

Next regular meeting of Keoka Chapter, O. E. S., will be held Friday evening, March 28.

Chorlotte Morse has been visiting friends in the vicinity of Boston, the past two weeks.

Carrie Plummer had the misfortune to fall on the ice, Monday, and broke one of the bones of her wrist.

The members of the Whist club were guests of Mrs. True C. Morrill of Norway, last week, Thursday. They report a most enjoyable time.

Rev. Oscar W. Peterson of Brownfield will give a lecture on "Through the Land of the Midnight Sun," in Masonic hall, Wednesday evening. This is the fifth number in the course of the Waterford Entertainment Bureau.

The house and barn on the Lovejoy farm southeast of Tom pond burned to the ground Wednesday morning, Feb. 12. The place was occupied by Mrs. Lovejoy, her daughter, Mrs. Norcross, and Mrs. Norcrrss' three boys. Most of the furniture was saved. The fire caught around the stove pipe. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

A largely attended Circle was held at the vestry, last week, Wednesday evening. After the bountiful supper the members of the "Forget-me-not" class of the Sunday school presented the mirth provoking farce, "The Bargain Counter." Those taking part were Mae McKinney, Margaret Sias, Eloise Millett, Catherine Stone and Dorothy Stimpson. The parts were taken in a most creditable manner.

NORTH PARIS.

Ada Gibbs, who is at the C. M. G. hospital, Lewiston, is gaining.

Several of the Finns in this vicinity are having telephones installed.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Morgan of Greenwood were at B. F. Elwell's over Sunday.

Wilma Littlehale spent last week with her sister, Mrs. Ida Chapman, at Greenwood.

J. B. Cobb and Olive Cobb of Sumner spent the day, Wednesday, with his uncle, A. T. Hollis, who has been confined to his bed several days with acute rheumatism.

Mrs. A. Hollis, Earl and Elizabeth, visited her mother, Mrs. R. H. Ryerson, at West Sumner, Thursday. Mrs. Dyerson has just returned after a few weeks' visit with her son, W. H. Ryerson, and family at Portland.

NORTHWEST NORWAY.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Morse went to Mechanic Falls, Saturday, to visit a friend, and returned Sunday.

Clifford Buck from Norway high school was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Buck, Sunday.

Mrs. Ed. Morse solved a puzzle that she found in a paper and got $13, and Gladys Abbott solved one and got a violin.

Ed. Emme has returned to C. G. French's, where he works, from New York where he has been visiting his mother.

Mrs. Ardell Nickerson has recently visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Merrill; so has Mrs. Ernest Bennett from Sweden; Cleora Merrill is spending her vacation at home from Turner, where she is teaching.

Mrs. George Abbott has got 10 little chickens hatched from a sitting of 13 eggs.

Rilla Morse from Upton is visiting at George Abbott's. She visited at Perley Bartlett's, Wednesday.

Mrs. Ada Low from West Medford, Mass., has been visiting her brothers, Charlie and Fred Dunn, and her nephews, Charlie and Leslie Noyes, who are boarding at Fred Pierce's. She and Mrs. Charlie Dunn went to Waterford one day to visit Mrs. Carlie Kingman. She visited the cemetery and called on Mrs. Perley Bartlett.

GRAFTON.

Don McLoud is working for A. F. Brooks.

Dennis and Linsey Ferren of Errol are in town, sawing wood by horse power.

Dr. J. A. Twaddle of Bethel passed through town, recently, on his way to Upton.

Thomas Vashaw has finished his logging contract and will move to his home at West Bethel.

Bessie Brown of Norway, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Arthur Parker, has returned home.

Albert Fuller, who has been working for Baker Thurston, was taken sick with the prevailing cold and has returned to his home at Upton.

Lecture on Temperance.

Edward H. Emery of Sanford, assistant secretary of the Christian Civic League of Maine, gave a stereoptican lecture at the Universalist church, Sunday evening. All the churches of the village united in a union service.

The subject of the lecture was "Temperance," and by the aid of the views Mr. Emery very graphically pictured the effects of intoxicating liquors on the individual, the community, the town, the state and the nation. Many of the pictures thrown on the screen showed statistics taken from actual experience where liquor was used in different quantities, for stated periods of time, proving in every instance that the total abstainer lies himself less liable to the germs of disease and all the accompanying disorders which go with liquor drinking.

Mr. Emery is a very fluent speaker and one who speaks very interestingly on facts which he, as a Civic League worker, has personally gathered from visiting the different places where liquor is sold and used, both in Maine and in other states.

In the course of his lecture he spoke of many of the places where liquor is sold in the state and while the Prohibitionary Law has not been strictly enforced, it is far better than the best license law ever made. The real trouble is not with the law, but with the officers whose business it is to enforce these laws.

In contrast with conditions existing in Maine he pictured several saloons and breweries in various licensed towns showing the evil conditions which exist there.

At the close of the lecture he urged for the moral support of every individual to help put down the liquor traffic and to aid the Civic League in their work of overcoming the present evil conditions.

Supreme Judicial Court.

March Term, 1913.

James Watts, Rumford, on a liquor nuisance charge was sentenced to serve 9 months in jail.

Vito Varano of Rumford sentenced to serve 6 months for assault with a dangerous weapon.

Toni Dragonis of Rumford for cheating under false pretenses received 90 days sentence.

Stanilaus Dunkus of Rumford for criminal assault was sentenced to 8 months in jail.

Abe Cohen of Rumford was fined $50 and costs taxed at $10 for illegal transportation of liquors.

The case of James Caliendo of Rumford for keeping and depositing intoxicating liquors was tried before the second jury and after being out nearly two hours a verdict of not guilty was returned. On Friday he was tried for nuisance. He was found guilty and sentenced to 90 days in jail or a fine of $500 and costs of $25.00. He is now in jail.

Fred G. Newton of Dixfield, on an old indictment against him for a felonious assault upon a little girl, recognized in the sum of $1000 for his appearance at the May term.

The old indictment for inciting arson against Omer Bergeron of Rumford was filed.

Ernest Merchant of Rumford pleaded nolo contendere to an indictment for nuisance. On motion of the county attorney the case was filed, and an indictment against the same man for common seller was not prossed.

The nuisance indictment against Louis Robichaud of Rumford was filed. Also old nuisance indictments against Michael Nelligan, John DeBroske and Daniel McCafferty, all of Rumford.

The new appealed case for single sale of intoxicating liquors against Henry Smith of Rumford was filed.

Joseph Leiman of Rumford was tried for keeping a nuisance, officers testified as to finding liquor at his place upon searching the premises. The verdict returned by the jury was guilty and Leiman was sentenced to 3 months in jail and fined $100.

Cero Papi was fined $50 and costs of $10.79 or 30 days for single sale. He will go to jail.

Loren Gorden of Rumford was fined $100 for keeping and depositing liquor, which he paid.

Octave LaPointe of Rumford pleaded guilty on indictments for common seller and single sale. He was sentenced to 60 days in jail and fined $50.

L. F. Lufkin of Rumford pleaded nolo contendere and paid a fine of $100 and costs.

The case of Jay J. Gregory was brought before the Court. Gregory has been in jail on an old indictment, which had been appealed, and an agreement had been made made with County Attorney Parker that Gregory should go out of of the county and stay out, but Gregory understood the agreement was only as long as Parker was County Attorney. It was decided after taking evesything into consideration, that Gregory be allowed to go on his own recognizance, and it was done.

John Beaulieu of Andover, 18 years of age, was arraigned on an indictment for breaking and entering Walter Colby's camp and committing larceny. He pleaded "guilty" but as it was found that the only thing taken was food, which the boys in the party ate, he was sentenced to 60 days in jail.

Tony Golden of Rumford was before the Court for the larceny of a watch from another workman at the International Mill. He was released on his own recognizance, having already been one month in jail.

Vital Ferland of Rumford in an appealed case for keeping and depositing intoxicating liquors, the judgment of the lower court was affirmed. The nuisance case against him was continued.

The following decrees in divorce cases were made:

Ida M. Thompson of Rumford from John E. Thompson of Haverhill, Mass., cruel treament. Custody of minor child given to mother.

Warren W. French of Paris from Alma R. French of Paris, statutory cause. Custody of minor child to father.

Clara E. Cummings of Woodstock from Frank Cummings of Albany, cruel treatment.

Vesta S. Jope from Thomas E. Jope, both of Fryeburg, desertion. Custody of minor child to mother.

Howard L. Drake from Eliza E. Drake, both of Norway, statutory cause. Custody of minor children to father.

Edna H. Judkins from Perley C. Judkins, both of Peru, intoxication. Name of libellant changed to Edna H. Tracy, her maiden name.

Charles F. Stevens of Fryeburg from Hattie S. Stevens of Conway, N. H., desertion. Custody of minor child given to father.

Sylvester B. Estes of Bethel from Ella N. Estes of parts unknown, desertion. Custody of minor children to father.

Wm. H. Robinson of Bethel from Grace W. Robinson of Greenwood, desertion. Custody of minor child to father.

Agnes Daniels of Oxford from Calix Daniels of parts unknown, desertion. Custody of minor child to mother.

Lizzie M. Therrien of Buckfield from Henry Therrien, cruel treatment.

Lura E. Martin of Bethel from Edwin K. Martin of Portland, failure to support. Custody of minor children given to mother.

Katherine L. Furbish from Frederick N. Furbish, both of Rumford, cruel treatment.

Carrie P. Bennett of Rumford from Sandy Bennett of Ottawa, Canada, cruel treatment. Custody of minor child to mother.

There were two men naturalized during the term: Andrew V etch of Kezar Falls and James J. Spinney of Bethel, who were former residents of Canada.

Had it not been for the case of Jimmie Caliendo of Rumford, this term of court would have broken the record for the shortness of the term, but the Caliendo case occupied the greater part of the time the last few days.

All of the criminal matter being cleared up, the Court adjourned on Saturday, at 3 30 p. m.

Hermit Brothers Dead.

John and Silas Granville Paine, 62 and 65 years old, residents of Brownfield all their lives and for the past ten years living hermit-like on the old homestead on the road between this village and Conway, N. H., were found dead in the house Sunday by Frank Patten, a friend, who went to the house to carry food, and by people whom he summoned upon failing to get any response to his knocking on the door.

The house was securely locked on the inside and the windows fastened, and it was necessary to force an entrance. There was no mark of violence on either of the bodies. The men had money, said to be a fortune of $30,000, although they lived in a more or less thriftless manner, preferring their own company and seeing other people but little.

The two men were descendents of one of the first families to settle in Brownfield, and John Paine was at one time tax collector of the town and interested in town politics and affairs. For the past 25 years the two men had kept house by themselves, without a housekeeper, and both showed signs of insanity, this manifesting itself in a melancholy. They were exceedingly devoted to each other, and were perfectly satisfied to be left alone.

Mr. Patten has been in the habit of visiting them about once a week or oftener, and taking food and otherwise giving them assistance about the house as they were willing this should be extended. He had visited them a week ago, finding them both about in their usual health and comfort, and leaving them food. One of the brothers had been ill for some time and his body was found in bed yesterday while that of the other brother was found on the floor by the bed, as though he had fallen, overcome by his sad discovery that his comrade had gone.

The kindling had been placed in the kitchen stove ready for starting a fire. Evidently the stove had been made ready that morning for starting a fire, for it is reasoned that the men probably had had a fire Saturday during the day, and up to the time that they retired and that the stove would have been too hot for the kindlings that night.

The brother, whose body was found on the floor, had dressed himself and was evidently intending to start the fire when he made the sad discovery. The bed was in the kitchen across the room from the stove. This room and other rooms in the house were in remarkably good order.

Joseph Paine, father of the dead brothers, died several years ago. He was known as a successful and prosperous farmer and a man of some means. Under their last ownership of recent years the buildings on the place had been neglected and were greatly in need of repairs. The brothers had not worked the place beyond cutting the grass and harvesting hay for a number of years. The hay that had been harvested for some years had not been used, and it is stated that there is hay in the barn that is 20 years old. No stock has been kept for several years.

HEBRON.

Victory for Her Athletes.

Hebron academy again demonstrated its superiority over the other schools of the State, at Brunswick, Saturday, when it easily carried away the honors of the first indoor interscholastic track meet in Bowdoin college's new Hyde gymnasium, in which 31 schools competed.

Hebron's total was almost equal to the combined points won by all other contestents. It took five firsts out of the nine events, finished second in two, was tied for second in another and took third place in the 220 yard dash, making a total of 34 points out of the entire 72.

Experience Proves

Whoever paints any other paint than Devoe wastes money. He needn't wait to see how it wears, to find out. He buys more gallons—no matter what price—it takes more money; the painter takes more, too.

Fewer Gallons or No Pay

Paint half of your house with any other paint; paint half with Devoe.

The other-paint half will take the most gallons; if not, we will make no charge for Devoe.

Wears Longer or No Pay

Here's another offer.

Paint half of your house with lead-and-oil; the other half with Devoe lead-and-zinc.

In three years the lead-and-oil half will need repainting, while the Devoe half will be about like new. If not, we will give you the paint for the whole house.

Why Pay Extra for Dried-Up Tobacco?

That's what you do when you buy chopped-up tobacco in a tin, bag or foil wrapping. You pay extra for the package—and get dried-up tobacco that burns fast and hot and bites your tongue.

When you buy Sickle Plug you get more tobacco, because there's no package to pay for. You get better tobacco, because all the flavor and moisture are pressed into the plug, and kept there by the natural leaf wrapper. You whittle a pipeful off the plug as you need it—and you're always sure of fresh tobacco that burns slowly, and smokes cool and sweet.

Convenient and economical. Doesn't crowd your pocket—no tobacco spilled and wasted. Try Sickle today—your dealer sells it.

BETTER FARMING

means producing maximum crops with the least expense and without impairing the fertility of the soil. Lowell Fertilizers produce a profitable crop and increase the fertility of the soil by supplying a reserve for future seasons. They are composed of Animal Matter—Bone, Blood and Meat—to which has been added potash in the proper proportions to make a perfectly natural plant food that is active all the time.

"WILL CONTINUE TO USE LOWELL FERTILIZER."

I am very much pleased with Lowell Animal Fertilizers. I had about 4,000 barrels of potatoes on nearly 33 acres of ground, not as large this year as I have had in some years, but larger than the average grower has had this past season, which has been very wet and backward.

I expect to use your goods as long as you make them as satisfactory as in the past. GEORGE E. GARTLEY, Aroostook County, Me.

BUCKFIELD.

Alfred Cole.

Alfred Cole, postmaster at Buckfield, died at his home, Thursday noon. Mr. Cole had been confined to his bed for nearly a year. Although unable to work in the office, he kept in touch with the postoffice work at all times making out the necessary returns and reports to the Postoffice Department until the week of his death. His son Storer, and daughter Mollie aided Josie Shaw, the assistant postmaster, in the office.

With the exception of four years during Harrison's administration he has served as post master, since Cleveland's first term. If he had lived to finish his present term, which expires in December 1913, he would have served as postmaster of Buckfield twenty four years, twenty years of continuous service. Mr. Cole was a "gold democrat" and refused to follow Bryan's free silver leadership. Mr. Cole served the town as clerk and member of the school committee for many years. For several years past he has been at work with Judge C. F. Whitman collecting data and material for the writing of a history of the town of Buckfield. Mr. Cole had much literary ability and his poems, many of which have been published, showed the man's high ideals of life and his love of nature.

He, with T. S. Bridgham and one or two others, was foremost in the saving of the "Old Church on the Hill," and converting it into a town hall. A landmark that is the pride of the town today.

He was born in Hartland, 70 years ago, son of Lemuel and Cynthia Lucas Cole, who came to Hartford as children with their parents from Carver, Mass., as pioneers, coming with ox teams.

Mr. Cole married Mary Storer of this place and he is survived by his wife who is an invalid; a daughter, Mollie, and a son, Storer, also two brothers, Edward and Virgil Cole and a sister, Martha, all of whom live in Buckfield.

He was a member of the Evening Star Lodge of Masons of this place and was secretary of the lodge for many years.

Beware of Aloes!

By Dr. True

Beware of laxatives containing aloes!

Aloes aids in giving free and easy bowel action—but it produces griping and piles!

Many people suffer from piles because they use some laxative that contains aloes.

There is no law that requires aloes to be mentioned as an ingredient in a laxative, so you must guard yourself.

I solemnly swear that there is not any aloes in Dr. True's Elixir. So when you need a laxative I advise you to take my own medicine, Dr. True's Elixir.

Dr. True's Elixir is composed of the extracts, essences and juices of leaves, barks, seeds and roots of known value for stomach troubles and bowel troubles. It sets the stomach right and produces free, normal, easy action of the bowels. Also, it expels all worms and other parasites from stomach or bowels, except tape worms.

These wonderful remedial qualities are combined with delicious, honey-flavored syrup and other pleasant-tasting aromatics, so that Dr. True's Elixir is the nicest possible medicine to take. This makes it easy to give to children also. They get so they really like to take it!

HARRISON.

William H. Bailey.

William H. Bailey, for many years a resident of Harrison, passed away at his home, Feb. 4, at the age of 75 years. The cause of his death was pneumonia.

He was born in Westbrook and was the last survivor of a family of six children born to James P. and Caroline Hilton Bailey.

In 1841 his family moved to Harrison where his childhood was spent. Upon reaching manhood he learned the trade of a wire drawer, and worked in the factory of P. Tolman & Co., Harrison; also in Worcester, Mass., and Hallowell, Me.

In 1884 he returned to Harrison where he worked in T. R. Sampson's store for about six years.

Politically speaking he was a Republican and during President Harrison's administration he served four years as post master.

At the time of his funeral his wife was too ill to attend and was removed to the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. P. Blake. Everything that loving care or thought could suggest was tried without success and Feb. 21 she passed away with pneumonia.

They leave the daughter, before mentioned, also a son, Percy F. Bailey of Portland, to mourn their loss. Mr. Bailey also leaves three nephews, Geo. F. Whitney, Horace Walker, Harrison and James Bishop, Pawtucket, R. I., three nieces, Mrs. Albion Kimball, Gorham, Me., Mrs. Chas. Wheeler, Orange, Mass., and Mrs. Abbott L. Baker, Providence, R. I.; also one cousin, Mrs. Caroline Hilton Fenner of the same city.

For several years past, Mr. and Mrs. Bailey have run a dry and fancy goods store on the corner of Main & Front streets. Here they have made bosts of friends who appreciate their efforts to please the public.

They were always active in every good work and will be greatly missed by the whole community.

PIGEON HILL.

Little Geneva Brackett has been ill with pneumonia.

Mrs. Grace Pike gave an entertainment Friday at the schoolhouse with her little pupils.

Dr. E. W. Bickford, D. D. S., and brother Everett of Auburn called at the Denning farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brackett have purchased a Lautier piano for their daughter Geneva.

Mrs. John King's nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Barron spent Sunday at the King farm.

Joseph Hunting of Welchville has been sawing wood at the Denning farm with his gasoline engine and at other places also.

A party of fox hunters have been on the hill. A number of foxes have been shot and they did not succeed in rounding up one.

An epidemic of colds and grippe are journeying over Pigeon Hill, claiming one and sometimes whole families for its victims.

Percy Cox, Mrs. Strout and three children called on neighbors and expect to return in a week to the farm, having finished working at Lisbon Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Jordan have returned from a three months' visit in Massachusetts. Mr. Jordan is much rested and we hope he will be in better health.

The water pipes at the Morey Farm have frozen and burst. The ground being so bare all winter it has frozen unusually deep causing much trouble with water pipes.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Smith of Denmark visited Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clemons recently.

L. R. Hartford and two girls, Mary and Jennie, spent Sunday at Frank Rogers'.

Mr. and Mrs. Onsville Wardsworth of South Hiram spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Randall.

Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Audet from Canada have visited their daughter, Mrs. Sewell Day. Mr. Day has been ill, but is better.

George B. Rice.

I read with deep sorrow of the death of Geo. B. Rice of North Waterford, one more good friend passed into the great unknown.

Mr. Rice was born in Waterford, Oct. 30, 1841, and with the exception of a few years in Boston, has always lived on the farm where he was born.

He was the son of Eber and Elizabeth Frye Rice, one of the oldest and best known families of old Oxford county.

Three brothers, Charles, William and John have but recently died.

Only two sisters are left, Mrs. Sarah Millett of Norway and Mrs. Louisa Rand of Albany.

When he was in Boston he married Hattie E. Marsh, a young lady of unselfish character and sterling worth and brought her to his old home in October, 1868. They have been blessed by five children, Mamie, the wife of Llewellyn Millett, lives in Waterford; Rufus lives in Readfield; Lillian, the wife of George Kneeland of Berry's Mills; Burnham, lives on the home place with his wife and children, father and mother; Florence, the wife of F. H. Johansen of Haverhill, Mass.

Sixteen grandchildren have been born to these sons and daughters.

Mr. Rice's unassuming charity and nobility of character endeared him to every one. He loved truth, justice and right.

I have known Mr. Rice all my life and I well remember that he always met his friends with a cheery smile and a sincere clasp of the hand.

He, with his wife, was a member of the Congregational church, and for many years was never absent from his accustomed seat each Sunday, and he was alway first and most willing to do more than his share in anything which would help the interests of the church.

He was ever a tireless worker, always working early and late, being most happy when he could do something to help others.

In sickness or trouble both Mr. and Mrs. Rice have always willingly given up their own work to help the suffering and distressed.

He believed that Heaven was not far off, but here and now to all who will awaken to realization.

He always spoke kind words of the absent friends and always with most affectionate respect. The following is a partial list of flowers offered as loving tributes:

Pillow, Husband and Father—Mrs. Geo. B. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Burnham Rice.
Assorted flowers—Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Millett.
Roses—Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Rice.
Calla illies—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kneeland.
Wreath—Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Johansen.
Pinks—Vera, Walter, Ralph, Madeline, Guy and Erva, grandchildren.
Pinks—Mr. and Mrs. Urban Tyler.
Pinks—Mr. and Mrs. Addison Millett.
Tulips—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Rice.
Narcissus—Mr. and Mrs. Chester Tarbox.
Cut flowers—Mr. and Mrs. Sewell Abbott.
Cut flowers—Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hersey.
Bouquet of roses—Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Coffin, Gilead.

WEST PARIS.

W. H. Emery has returned to Crystal, after a two weeks' vacation here with his family.

Farnum and Penley's Swift Minstrels repeated their show this week, Wednesday evening.

West Paris Grange has invited the Bryant Pond Grange to visit them this week, Saturday, in an all-day meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Emery and daughter, Laura, went to Lewiston last Saturday, to have Laura's eyes tested and treated.

Mrs. E. W. Penley and daughter, Bertha, came home sick from their visit to South Paris last week. Both are better now.

A public union meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be had at the M. E. church, Sunday evening, March 30th. The program will be announced next week.

About 20 Grangers from here visited South Paris Grange last week, Saturday, and report a good time. The day promised bad or more would have gone.

Israel F. Emmons is quite sick. His daughter, Bertha, was sent for by telephone, early last Friday morning and she reached here on the forenoon train.

Vesta Curtis is making a two weeks' visit with her sister, Mrs. Ned Packard, in Richardson Hollow. It is the first time Vesta has been away for a year or more.

Elias McKeen was taken to the insane hospital at Augusta, last week, Friday. Mr. McKeen was taken in a similar way last fall, but got better until now, he was suddenly taken worse.

Clark Hunt, who has been driving a team for E. W. Penley this winter and who with his family have been keeping house upstairs in F. H. Hills' house, has finished work and moved to Richardson Hollow, Norway.

Twenty five friends of Edwin J. Mann gave him a pleasant birthday surprise party last week, Tuesday evening. They presented him with an office chair, flowers and other gifts; also a handsome cake with candles brightly burning, which he cut and served to his guests with chocolate ice cream, fruit punch and crackers. The evening was pleasantly spent playing games and music.

Two runaway teams cut up some lively performing for a minute one day last week. Fred Hendrickson's horse became free from its hitch in front of C. S. Bacon's store and ran down Main street, curving in at Mrs. Farnum's millinery store and between Charles Curtis' shop and the hitching posts, clearing off the boards on the tops of the lower steps and breaking one hitching post, causing Frank Andrews' horse which was hitched to the post, to run across the street to Smith's store with the post hanging to him, where he was caught while the first horse circled around by the depot and brought up between two wood piles at the hotel where he was obliged to stop with a sled badly demolished. Neither beasts nor human beings were harmed, strange to say.

The schools closed Friday for two weeks' vacation except the High school which closes this week for one week vacation. Following are the several reports of attendance. High school, Allan J. Keaney, Prin.

SOUTH WATERFORD.

A Gay Party.

A large party, consisting of nineteen members of the Waterford Whist club composed of women exclusively, enjoyed a rare excursion on Thursday last to Norway. Their conveyance was as comfortable and social as can be imagined, consisting of Will Abbott's fine, fast double span of horses hitched up to a pair of sleds surmounted by a long platform with high side-boards and long seats running lengthwise, omnibus fashion, provided with plenty of fur robes and heavy blankets.

It was indeed a gay party with plenty of room for all, and they had taken little note of the two hour's flight when the gallant equipage drove into the streets of Norway and to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. True C. Morrill, whose guests they were by previous invitation.

The two hours or more at the home of the Morrills were well improved by diligent exploitation of skill in playing the great national game—no apology to base ball.

At the close of a pleasant series of games, a handsome and appetizing luncheon was served to the visitors by their hospitable hosts, and about 8 p. m. the happy excursionists were again on their winding way to their Waterford homes.

The following named ladies were of the party:—Mrs. Myrtle York, president; Mrs. Linnie Smith, vice president; Mrs. Etta Watson, Mrs. Harriet Young, Mrs. Florence Noble, Mrs. Augusta Young, Mrs. L. R. Muller, Mrs. Bessie Hill, Mrs. Flora Abbott, Carrie Hamlin, Mrs. Delia Wheeler, Mrs. Abbie Morse, Mrs. Judith Dudley, Mrs. Nancy Fagg, Mrs. Dora Rounds, Mrs. Coye, Mrs. Ida Morgan, Mrs Lida Johnson, Mrs. Lizzie Pike.

The Waterford Whist club is not in the Maine Federation of Women's Clubs. Why not?

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Brown are back at their home after spending about three months at Bridgton Ridge.

An alarm of fire on Tuesday afternoon was occasioned by the burning out of a chimney in Robbins Plummer's house.

The attention of the scribe has been directed to a misstatement last week for lack of information. The responsible managers of the dancing school and set of assemblies this winter at Grange Hall were Messrs. Walter Newcomb and Charles Norcross, who employed Henry Farrington and Packard's orchestra in a professional capacity as teacher and musicians.

The dwelling house and barn on the farm belonging to Mrs. Mary Lovejoy on Mountain Avenue were destroyed by fire on Wednesday, 11th inst. The fire was discovered about 8 o'clock in the morning by the young son of George Norcross, whose family had their residence there. Mr. Norcross, being absent at Worcester in employment of trolley railroad service, and before the fire in the upper roof could be reached by water it was too late to save any of the buildings, The greater portion of the household goods were saved; also a cow, a horse and one swine. It is reported there is a partial insurance on the buildings.

NORTH WATERFORD.

Marjorie Matherson is visiting at David Lebroke's.

George Brownel has been on the sick list so a physician was called.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Adams who have been sick for some time are reported better.

Winnie McKeen was at home over Sunday from Norway where she is attending school.

The heavy rain we have had has carried off most most of the snow, so spots of bare ground are beginning to show.

Celia, Iva and Rodolph McAllister of North Lovell spent the day, last week Thursday with their aunt, Mrs. J. C. Sawyer.

Josie Adams was called home by the illness of her mother from Oldin McAllister's of West Lovell, where she has been working.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. McKeen are rejoicing over the birth of a daughter, making eight daughters in the family. Mrs. Alonzo Brown of East Stoneham is caring for Mrs. McKeen and little daughter.

HARBOR.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hurd were in Portland, Saturday.

Thomas Stearns and wife of Lovell were at W. E. Benson's, Sunday.

Mrs. A. W. McKeen spent most of last week at C. W. Farrington's, sewing.

C. W. Stanley of Lovell visited at his son's, C. E. Stanley's, a day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Charles visited Mr. and Mrs. Seth Webb at South Chatham, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Sawyer and little daughter visited relatives at Bridgton, last week.

The following are on the sick list: Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Smart, Mrs. Warren Lunt, W. E. Beuson, Mary Hall and Lizzie Hall.

C. E. Stanley was in Portland, Wednesday, to visit his son, Dr. O. H. Stanley, who has been very ill at the Maine General hospital.

March 14th the Circle was entertained by Mrs. Will Merrill and in spite of the rain a good number took supper. The program was a solo by Agnes Chandler and an illustrated lecture on London by Miss Crowell.

Spring and Easter Opening

It would be difficult to describe the exhibits in all departments. It is only the personal visit and examination that will reveal the importance that may be attached to this presentation of the season's most fashionable new effects in women's apparel.

The latest fashion dictations are decidedly in the direction of bright colors, more elaborate and brilliant effects than in many years. This pronounced feature will be noticeable in the cotton fabrics and linens as well as the Tailored Costumes, Gowns and Outer Garments. In consequence of this fact there are quantities of fabrics and articles termed novelties that should have early attention. The great variety of beautiful new Cotton Fabrics may be mentioned as being among the leading and most attractive novelties that will be promptly taken.

Tailor Made Suits

positively the best suits to be found for the price. The materials are of the newest, and uncommon in style. Priced $10.98 to $30.00.

New Coats for Easter $8.50 to $20.00.

The range of styles comprise a great number of which are mostly one of a kind. The materials are decidedly new and show many novelties which make them the prettiest separate coats that have been brought out in many seasons.

New Silk Waists priced at $1.98 to $6.00.

Kid Gloves

Stocked especially for Easter week with best known productions. Fownes, Meyers and other makes of like importance are here in full assortments that will meet the Easter need in the most pleasing way and at small cost. $1.00 and $1.50 per pair.

FRYEBURG.

Been in Business Longest.

Mary S. Howe who has been in business longer than any one in Fryeburg passed her 75th birthday at the home of her niece, Mrs. Martha Howe Haskell, Woodfords, last Wednesday. Miss Howe while never having married has been a wonderful woman. She has always kept the homestead up, as well as the store and it has always been open to all of her relatives.

Her neices and nephews have made their home with her from time to time and she has proved a mother in every sense of the word.

She has always taken an active interest in everything pertaining to Fryeburg. Until the last year she has had most excellent health but rheumatism has made it hard for her to walk readily, of late.

Miss Howe has a bright cheerful disposition and is a very intelligent lady, having a very retentive memory she is a most excellent authority on affairs of other days. Her neighbors and friends who were apprised of "Aunt Mary's" birthday remembered her with cards and letters of congratulation.

E. E. Hastings has attended court.

Mrs. Charles Thoms and Blanche Thoms have the mumps.

Scrope Howe and family have visited their relatives in Portland.

The Choral Society report good rehearsals and will give a concert later on.

Charles Farrington and wife were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Harriman.

Mrs. Charlotte Hodsdon spent the week-end with her son, Herbert and family.

Mr. Cram has his house so he is living in it although it is not wholly completed.

Joseph Howe, of Lovell, has moved over to George Weston's to have charge of his farm.

Helen Hodsdon, who is attending the Salem Normal School, came on with her grandmother.

New board of selectmen this year, Dean Ballard, George Coleman and Archie Harnden.

Maple syrup makers are preparing for business. Our sheriff, C. T. Shortridge, usually brings the first to market.

W. O. Brown and wife who have been visiting relatives in North Anson, Mass. have returned to their home.

Lucy Ames Frost who owns a pretty cottage in East Fryeburg is on the staff of Dorchester High School teachers.

Mrs. Augustus Fessenden spent a few days, recently, with her eldest son, Harry, who is employed in Portland.

Mrs. Horace Kimball, of Lovell, and young son have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wiley, for a few days.

Rev. Mr. Carruthers preached a fine sermon on Sunday and in fact does every Sunday. He is a particularly pleasing speaker.

Mrs. Alfred Poor has been in the station assisting in making out the reports and will remain while station agent Burnell goes to Boston for a few days.

Charles Haley has bought the Johnson Cottage at Chautauqua ground and moved it down on Kelsey Ave. and is going to have it made into a rent.

Fred Haley has taken the contract to move and remodel the house Walter Burnell bought of Mrs. Cousins. Mr. Ladd purchased the same of Burnell for an annex to his cottage at Lovewell's Pond.

Fryeburg is to have two new stores, April 1st, in the R. F. Chase block on Elm St. A first class grocery and fruit store, also a plumbing, steam-heating and hardware store.

Mrs. Harry Hutchins came very near being badly injured one evening recently. A horse and sleigh run into her and knocked her down. She was badly bruised but was very lucky not to have sustained worse injury.

The managers of the Heffley Institute, N. Y., where Frank L. Mark is employed have recently taken over Brown's Business Institute thereby gaining them the three largest schools in the city. Mr. Mark has a fine position and his friends extend congratulations.

Charles Haley has bought a house of W. Bean situated on Grove street.

Mrs. C. E. Gammon, who has been away for a few days, returned, Friday.

Mrs. Florence Ela, who has been sick, is much improved and able to go out.

Mr. and Mrs. B. G. March, of Portland, have been spending a few days in Fryeburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dresser of Portland were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Fox over Sunday.

Mrs. Belle McKeen and Mrs. Henry Hutchins went to Lovell to attend their father's funeral.

Prayer was held at the house Monday morning at 9 o'clock by Rev. L. W. Raymond. The remains were taken to Bryant Pond where the funeral was held at her former home.

A large delegation of Odd Fellows were out Saturday evening, about 225 visitors and all. Androscoggin lodge of Auburn numbered about 90, and enough more from Mechanic Falls, South Paris and Norway made up about 150 who came on a special train. Androscoggin lodge worked the 1st degree on 12 candidates and did the work in fine shape. A bountiful supper was enjoyed at the close of the evening's business.

The Junior class of Oxford High school played Miss Buzby's Boarders at Grange hall, Bolster's Mills, Friday evening, followed by dancing. Music by Weston's orchestra.

In Memoriam.

To a Friend.

Our dear one fell asleep one night
As the sunset gilded the hills,
Flooding with softest mellow light,
The distant wooded hills.

Softly her spirit took its way
When the Father called, "Come up above"
And dwell forever in eternal day
In perfect peace, and love.

She had faith in a Father's mercy,
And as humbly obeyed His will,
As the waves of the wild tempestuous sea,
When he bade them, "Peace be still."

The wearisome journey of life is o'er,
And she dwells with Christ above,
With dear ones on the other shore,
In a Heavenly Father's love.

Happy in a far off world of glory
Never more to be left alone,
For God hath deemed her worthy
Of a place beside his throne.

Her sweet voice has forever gone,
The listening angels heard her prayer,
And took the weary wanderer home,
To dwell forever with them there.

Beyond the highest gleaming star
That's shining in the heavens above,
That earth's cold sorrows ne'er can mar,
There is a world of peace and love.

O, sweetly, softly, dear one sleep
Through all the future endless years;
No more with bitter sighs to weep,
For God hath wiped away thy tears.

God said, "Come unto me and rest,
And lay thy weary burdens down
And dwell forever with the blest,
Thou shalt receive a golden crown.

"In heaven how happy thou shalt dwell
While songs of angels round thee break;
With God Who doeth all things well,
Thou shalt from all thy sorrows wake.

"Safe from all thy pain and sorrow,
Where the weary are at rest,
Thou shalt find thy heavenly portion,
In the mansions of the blest."

BRYANT POND.

A Move For Better Sidewalks.

We have in town a live active organization which has already accomplished much for the welfare of our village, an organization which may be the means of accomplishing still bigger things in the future, and which deserves the earnest support of every citizen of Woodstock. This organization is our local Village Improvement Society.

Organized several years ago, its members have pulled together for the welfare of our village and each year has seen some decided improvement made of which the society was largely responsible. These are a few of the things which have been accomplished.

A large field above the village has been purchased and converted into a playground for the free use of the citizens.

A fire department has been has been organized and with the co-operation of the town a hand engine and other fire fighting apparatus were purchased.

The old Cole carpenter shop has been purchased and converted into a neat and attractive little hall for the use of the society.

Last season a move was made for street lights, with the result that several gas street lights were installed to the decided improvement of the town.

This year a move for better sidewalks will be made and the town asked at the annual March meeting to appropriate the small sum of $50 for this purpose, the society to raise an equal amount. With this sum a start will be made towards permanent walks of concrete or some other material of which modern walks are constructed. The vote was to pay 30c per lin. foot.

That our village is sadly in need of sidewalks no one can deny. All we have is the old plank walk which is constantly in need of repairs and when the cost of repairs is taken into account it would seeem as if it would be economy for the town to make it into a permanent walk.

Bryant Pond is our towns business center. Whatever helps our village to grow and prosper cannot but be a help to citizens in all sections of the town. Let us pull together.

FREE ADVICE TO SICK WOMEN

Thousands Have Been Helped By Common Sense Suggestions.

Women suffering from any form of female ills are invited to communicate promptly with the woman's private correspondence department of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established a confidential correspondence which has extended over many years and which has never been broken. Never have they published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the Company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which they have to draw from, it is more than possible that they possess the very knowledge needed in your case. Nothing is asked in return except your good will, and their advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address: Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution, as it is too expensive. It is free and only obtainable by mail. Write for it today.

NORTH LOVELL.

Marshall Evans.

Marshall Evans died at his home at North Lovell, at noon, Tuesday, March 4th of pneumonia, at the age of 83 years, 8 months and 17 days.

He was born in Shelburne, N. H., July 21, 1829, the son of Nathaniel and Lydia Evans. He attended the Lovell schools and followed the occupation of a farmer and a carpenter. He had been postmaster at North Lovell 31 years. Politically he was a Democrat. He was a member of the Grange.

Mr. Evans married first, Abbie B. Kilgore at Lovell, Oct. 24, 1860: second, Ruth M. Jordan at North Waterford, May 4, 1898. His children:—Clara Bell, deceased; Mrs. Carrie Bell Evans McKeen of Fryeburg; Mrs. Olive E. Hutchins of Fryeburg. He is survived by his wife, two daughters and one granddaughter.

He was a kind neighbor, a man of sterling integrity, honorable in all ways, and is a loss to the community.

The funeral was at the residence: Rev. M. O. Balzer the officiating clergyman.

The bearers were John Mason, Ronello Andrews, Perley McKeen and Walter Butters. The burial was at Pine Grove, North Lovell, in the family lot.

The floral offerings were many and very beautiful, a wreath from Kezar Lake Grange; a pillow, Husband, from his wife, a crescent, Father, from the children and many other lovely pieces from friends.

Mrs. Will Richardson has returned to her home in Sweden.

Mrs. Bert Garcelon is better. She has been very ill but is able to sit up a part of the time now.

A TONIC LAXATIVE

Pe-ru-na, an Up-to-Date Family Medicine That Should Be In Every Home

S. B. HARTMAN, M. D.

Nearly everybody is obliged more or less to take a laxative. There are of course a few exceptions. A great many people also need occasionally to take a tonic. Probably few households exist that do not make use of tonics and laxatives.

The remedy Peruna is a laxative tonic. It not only operates as a gentle laxative, but also as a tonic.

The benefit derived from such a remedy is a great deal more in the prevention of disease than in the cure. After a person has really become sick, either with an acute or chronic ailment, the rule should be to employ a physician, or some one who can give the case his personal attention. But long before this happens the person will complain of this or that symptom, which is not severe enough to interfere with his regular activities. If at this place before the disease has really gained a foothold in the system, a person was to take a dose or two of a good tonic laxative the great majority of cases of sickness would be prevented.

Peruna is a remedy that should be kept in the house. Its virtue as a preventive to disease is the thing I wish chiefly to emphasize.

A slight condition of constipation may lead to serious sluggishness of the bowels, biliousness, re-absorption of poisonous material and finally sickness. Or apathy of the stomach in which the food is not relished, may gradually lead to atonic dyspepsia or to the acquisition of some acute disease. For either one of these conditions a few doses of the tonic laxative Peruna would set matters right. This is why the remedy should always be kept handy by.

When once the value of Peruna as a household remedy is understood no home would be without it. Cathartics, pills and powders would be discarded. Irritating tonics would be no longer taken. Alcoholic drinks would have no place. With a few doses of Peruna a vigorous appetite is produced and if there be any sluggishness of the bowels their function is gradually restored.

Most laxatives are weakening in their effect. A tonic laxative guards against this weakening effect. Until right living has become so thoroughly established that all medicines are superfluous, Peruna will be needed. It is exactly the remedy that meets numerous necessities of the household. Sold at all drug stores.

Mr. John B. Perkins, 22 Whiting St., Plymouth, Mass., writes: "I think Peruna is a number one medicine. I was troubled with catarrh and bowel complaint. I tried several doctors, but could only find temporary relief. I took Peruna and am glad to say that it cured my catarrh and corrected my bowels." PERUNA IS FOR SALE AT ALL DRUG STORES.

SPECIAL NOTICE—Many persons are making inquiries for the old-time Peruna. To such would say, this formula is now put out under the name of RA-TAR-NO, manufactured by RA-TAR-NO Company, Columbus, Ohio. Write them and they will be pleased to send you a free booklet.

Fraud Paint.

The worst mistake one is likely to make in painting is wrong paint; it is easy to make.

We all say, "Ours is best;" and there are 1000 of us. One is best; but a dozen are so near on a level that no one knows, for sure, that his is the one.

The worst paints are worst liars; they know what they are, put on a bold face, and brazen it out,

Their one true argument is low price; but low-price paint is always, must be, a fraud; it is made to cheat cheatable people.

Only Unwise People Tolerate CATARRH

Here is a sure way to get rid of Catarrh; hawking, snuffling, and all misery caused by the Catarrh germs.

Get a HYOMEI outfit today, follow the instructions and breathe five times a day deep into your lungs the germ killing air through the little inhaler.

At night just before going to bed use the vapor treatment as directed. This treatment is prescribed by the best Catarrh Specialists in America and Europe to destroy Catarrh germs.

Booth's HYOMEI is Australian Eucalyptus and other splendid antiseptics. A complete outfit which includes inhaler is $1.00; separate bottles, if the first does not entirely cure, can be obtained for 50 cents, and money back from Noyes Drug Store if you are dissatisfied.

Just breathe it—no stomach dosing.

Peculiar After Effects of Grip This Year.

Leaves Kidneys in Weakened Condition

Doctors in all parts of the country have been kept busy with the epidemic of grip which has visited so many homes. The symptoms of grip this year are very distressing and leave the system in a run down condition, particularly the kidneys which seem to suffer most, as every victim complains of lame back and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to more serious sickness, such as dreaded Bright's Disease. Local druggists report a large sale on Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root which so many people say soon heals and strengthens the kidneys after an attack of grip. Swamp-Root is a great kidney, liver and bladder remedy and being an herbal compound, has a gentle healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed by those who try it. Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., offer to send a sample bottle of Swamp Root, free by mail, to every sufferer who requests it. A trial bottle will convince any one who may be in need of it. Regular size bottles, 50c and $1.00. For sale at all druggists. Be sure to mention this paper.
